

Frank Fiorini
... heads Cuban brigade

Jerry Patrick
... soldier of fortune

FBI Investigating Anti-Fidel Forces

By DAVID KRASLOW
Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — The Federal Bureau of Investigation is checking into Miami's anti-Castro military groups to determine if the U.S. Neutrality Act is being violated.

A spokesman for the Justice Department told The Herald's Washington Bureau that the FBI had been assigned to investigate one Cuban organization, as well as a garrison of American soldiers of fortune led by Jerry Patrick, 24-year-old Californian.

The Cuban group is believed to be the International Anti-Communist Brigade, headed by Frank Fiorini, an American adventurer who fought for Fidel Castro before defecting.

Under provisions of the neutrality law, Americans are prohibited from becoming combatants in a foreign military operations.

Patrick's band, which has headquarters at 1934 SW Third St., is the paratroop division of Fiorini's brigade.

Besides Cubans and Americans, the anti-Castro groups include citizens from several Central and South American countries.

Washington officials do not attach any great significance to Patrick's paratroopers from a military standpoint. The group is composed of about 50 members, mostly Americans in their early twenties.

Since the group's activities were disclosed by The Herald, scores of young Americans from all over the country have expressed a desire to join Patrick's Inter-Continental Penetration Force.

Patrick, who stands about six feet seven inches, claims to be a former Marine. However, Marine Corps records in Washington do not show any Jerry Patrick, or any Jerry Patrick Hemming, a name he sometimes uses.

In a recent statement, Sen. George A. Smathers (D., Fla.) said that anti-Castro resistance fighters had resumed training in Florida. It is not known whether Smathers was referring to the Patrick-Fiorini organization.

For the last several weeks, Patrick and his men have been engaged in training in the Everglades and undergoing parachute exercises at an abandoned field in Broward County.

Soviet Lauds Hemingway

LONDON — (AP) — Moscow Radio Monday recorded the death of Ernest Hemingway and said in its North American broadcast:

"The distinguished American writer Ernest Hemingway died tragically in Sun Valley, Idaho, from an accident while cleaning a rifle.

"Mr. Hemingway was very popular in the Soviet Union. Most of his works have been translated here."

Swim 50c per lesson, 16 private pools, NA 4-5131. —Adv.

Auto Insurance. Save 20-50% Monthly Pymts. PL 8-4721-Adv.

Frank Fiorini
... heads Cuban brigade

Jerry Patrick
... soldier of fortune

FBI Investigating Anti-Fidel Forces

By DAVID KRASLOW
Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — The Federal Bureau of Investigation is checking into Miami's anti-Castro military groups to determine if the U.S. Neutrality Act is being violated.

A spokesman for the Justice Department told The Herald's Washington Bureau that the FBI had been assigned to investigate one Cuban organization, as well as a garrison of American soldiers of fortune led by Jerry Patrick, 24-year-old Californian.

The Cuban group is believed to be the International Anti-Communist Brigade, headed by Frank Fiorini, an American adventurer who fought for Fidel Castro before defecting.

Under provisions of the neutrality law, Americans are pro-

Soviet Lauds Hemingway

LONDON — (AP) — Moscow Radio Monday recorded the death of Ernest Hemingway and said in its North American broadcast:

"The distinguished American writer Ernest Hemingway died tragically in Sun Valley, Idaho, from an accident while cleaning a rifle.

"Mr. Hemingway was very popular in the Soviet Union. Most of his works have been translated here."

hibited from becoming combatants in a foreign military operations.

Patrick's band, which has headquarters at 1934 SW Third St., is the paratroop division of Fiorini's brigade.

Besides Cubans and Americans, the anti-Castro groups include citizens from several Central and South American countries.

Washington officials do not attach any great significance to Patrick's paratroopers from a military standpoint. The group is composed of about 50 members, mostly Americans in their early twenties.

Since the group's activities were disclosed by The Herald, scores of young Americans from all over the country have expressed a desire to join Patrick's Inter-Continental Penetration Force.

Patrick, who stands about six feet seven inches, claims to be a former Marine. However, Marine Corps records in Washington do not show any Jerry Patrick, or any Jerry Patrick Hemming, a name he sometimes uses.

In a recent statement, Sen. George A. Smathers (D., Fla.) said that anti-Castro resistance fighters had resumed training in Florida. It is not known whether Smathers was referring to the Patrick-Fiorini organization.

For the last several weeks, Patrick and his men have been engaged in training in the Everglades and undergoing parachute exercises at an abandoned field in Broward County.

The Miami Herald

PALM BEACH EDITION

An outline map of the state of Florida, positioned to the right of the 'PALM BEACH EDITION' text.

Fly Your Flag Today

Tuesday, July 4, 1961

No. 215

Florida's Most Complete Newspaper

51st Year

48 Pages

5 Cents

A Latin American Edition is Published Daily

Frank Fiorini
... heads Cuban brigade

Jerry Patrick
... soldier of fortune